

Possible Interruption in Email Service

Back to all support notices

May 15, 2014

ACS Technologies was recently made aware of significant changes in email security policies instituted by the Internet Engineering Task Force \(IETF\). These issues are a direct result of major email providers such as Yahoo, Google, AOL, and Earthlink quickly complying with new DMARC security policies instituted by IETF. While those who use email can anticipate positive benefits from these changes, the initial changes are causing some unexpected consequences.

ACS Technologies is hard at work crafting a solution that best serves our customers. Please check back for updates on this issue.
